Thanks a bunch!

Back when EPR had Max Dodson for a couple of years we had a San Juan Initiative coordinated with the State and with the various watershed groups. I was the Coordinator and later the Watershed Coordinator for Colorado, working with the state on getting NPS funding to the Animas other mining-impacted watersheds in that part of the State.

That makes me one of the many who have left a little piece of heart in the Upper Animas. It matters very much, and thanks so much to the many now working to address this and the longer-term issues that could not be addressed with voluntary programs.
